Johnny & Ineke (he's not heavy he's my brother)

These two dogs were originally sent to two separate Dogwatch foster homes in the UK to await adoption by their forever families. Louise Mills adopted Ineke and it was love at first sight. The foster mum told Louise about Johnny, Ineke's brother, also awaiting his forever home. Louise just had to meet him too. After witnessing the reunion of the pair that was so emotional, Louise decided to adopt Johnny too. Originally only wanting one dog - Louise now has two. So Ineke and Johnny will live happily together in the UK thanks to our partner Dogwatch and Louise.

Sylvia's 60 challenges

This year marking a significant milestone in her life, Sylvia decided to set herself 60 challenges – things she had not done before and which would test her resolve. One of the challenges was to spend two weeks at the PAWS-PATAS shelter, helping to look after dogs and prepare them for re-homing. Apart from witnessing the distressing conditions under which some animals enter the shelter, one of the things that struck Sylvia was the potential to put her practical skills to good use (she is a painter and decorator by trade). Oh ... and the other challenges? Too many to mention here, but they include: learning to ride a motorbike; going on a pole dancing course (yes, really! Good for the back muscles!); scuba diving; becoming an expert on the trampoline and walking the popular Camino del Rey in Granada. Makes volunteering at the shelter seem positively tame!

Kitten coffee morning

€190 was raised for the cattery by those who came along to admire some of its kittens. Thank you to Simon for opening up on his day off and donating time and money to the cause. Thanks also to all those who came along to support and help out. Jack acquired a new kitten, Biff, who will be joining the family's other cat adopted from us two years ago – thank you, Jack!

New van livery

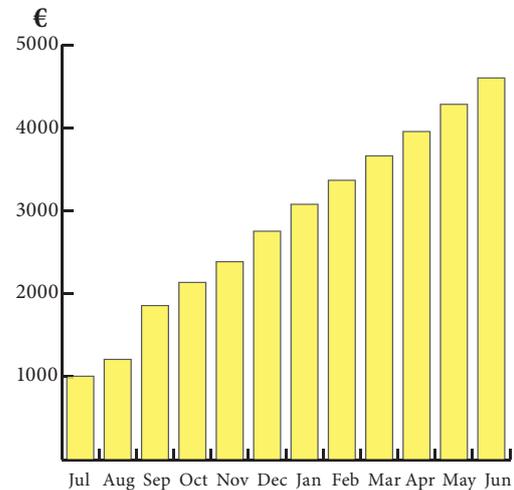

Our van that we use for transporting cats and dogs to their new homes in Holland and the UK has been given a new look recently by adding our logo to it. Thank you to Vespública for their generous sponsorship.
